The Classroom Pet

Our class has a pet gorilla called Potato. When my teacher asks a question to the class the gorilla always says ohh ahh ahh like he knows the answer to the question, this is very funny. Every Monday when we come into our classroom we see a banana at everybody's table. This is Potato showing us all how much he missed us. Potato just loves swinging from the ceiling lights and the teacher gives out to him and this makes him do it more. He is a very cheeky gorilla. If that doesn't annoy the teacher then he starts flicking the light switch on and off and starts oooing like he is laughing. But my favorite thing Potato does is when he turns on the projector and makes puppet shapes on the wall. This makes everyone laugh, even the teacher.

A song I wrote

*Sometimes when you're feeling down, you just don't know what to do but really all you got ta do is believe in you.
Cause everything has a reason it's true.
So believe and believe in you that's all you gotta do.*

*If You let go a little you will have a little peace
If You let go a lot you will have a lot of peace
If You let go completely you will have complete peace*
